The 8 week evaluation includes the "This Weeks Matchups" page, which shows teams ranked in the 4 most important categories based on their most recent performance. In addition, the "Power Ratings" page, which computes a team's probability of winning at home or on the road, is also included. The NFL Analyzer Page Description: The NFL Analyzer tool computes a team's power rating using the time value of money. The page shows teams ranked in eight categories, depending on their last year's performance (Last 3 Wins, last 3 Losses, Points scored and Points allowed). This allows you to see the top 8 or 15 teams in any category. By default the comparison is for the previous 3 weeks. The Interrogator Page Description: The Interrogator tool lets you handicap the NFL. It does this by analyzing a team's recent performance against the point spread and probability of winning. This page is useful for evaluating a team before the start of a NFL week. Profitability Page Description: The Profitability tool lets you analyze the NFL for profits. Specifically it computes a team's profitability based on its winning percentage in the most important categories (Div, Conf, Int, Team, Power Ratings, Points Scored, Points Allowed). Point Spread Optimizer Description: The Point Spread Optimizer uses the season's point spreads (both public & via your own staff spreadsheets) to determine a spread or delta at each game. It can also do this for past games. This tool will tell you if a spread is at an acceptable level for the upcoming game. Prediction Report Description: The Prediction Report shows you the Point Spread (if you have added it) or SpreadDelta (if you have added that) for a game. It shows all previous games on the same page. A red icon is placed on the teams winning the game. The page also shows the spread delta and the percentage of games won with that spread or delta. This information is extremely useful for evaluating the spread/spread delta. NFL All-Time Data Description: This tool lets you analyze the NFL all-time results. The results are shown in all eight categories based on last year's results (last 3 wins, last 3 losses, pts scored, pts allowed, Home vs Away,

For the most part, the regular pools allow you to pick ANY TEAM, play ANY GAME, pick the LEAST WINNERS, the LEAST LOSERS, pick by SECONDARY or go the NUMBERS. But a league/conference is essentially a lot of individual pools, and sometimes you want to combine them all. With "NFL Woofpool", you can break up your weekly NFL pools into individual teams, divisions, conferences and even conferences and individual teams. Each league, division, conference and team has its own unique picksheet. Also included is an analyzer tool which allows you to compare your pool's current performance to that of the NFL. The Analyzer also provides you with a handy list of games, along with their point spreads and totals, you should avoid, and the games you should take advantage of this week.
