As a player of the Empire Escort class you need to complete contracts on time, ensure the ship's safety and care for your client's cargo. Want to play more games with time limits? Play BattleSpace 3. Friction GameSpotBattleSpace started out as a small online skirmish game based around the popular team-based FPS, Team Fortress. Players take on the roles of the front-line combatants, responsible for shooting enemies and dying horribly if they get in the way. Players also take on the role of an Admiral - a galactic ruler charged with controlling their 'Union', or team, from the safety of a shielded control center. Each Union possesses a collection of power modules, which can be built by spending gems earned by 'mining' planets. Playing time can be sped up by capturing and holding various space stations. Each Union has a space capsule that can be sent off to explore the outer reaches of the galaxy, revealing new planets, weapons, units and objectives to conquer and control. Right now, you can play in three modes: Solo mode, PvE mode and PvP mode. Play solo mode to explore BattleSpace alone. Explore, mine, and build your way to victory! With numerous bonus objectives, combat and control modules, and a detailed space map to learn and navigate, you'll be able to discover the perfect spot to hold your Union. Alternatively, PvE mode has you drop in randomly onto a planet as an Admiral. The goal is to either conquer the planet, or defend against encroachment by other players. Admins will then assign a team of 1 to 5 players who'll face other Admins in PvP mode for a chance to earn cool rewards. BattleSpace's PvP is intense and you can have only one player online at a time. Check out BattleSpace on the web or on Facebook. If you're on iOS, you can even download the full game right from the App Store. BattleSpace is a game about gathering resources and building a great empire, online or offline. Install BattleSpace and experience elite battles featuring the three great weapon series: Ancient, Medieval, Mutiny! Recent Reviews:What I love most about BattleSpace is it is a mix of all three. There are modern ships with medieval armaments, and classic, antique, and the futuristic varieties. Do not fear; the game is easy to learn and has fun combat possibilities that rarely get boring as every ship is built from the front at the helm and every battle is different. That being said, the tutorials are easy to follow and the best part is the commander who makes every online skirmish fun. I do recommend it highly! Pauliina SaisalaThanks, you guys at BattleSpace are great! I am looking forward to try this game. It sounds fun! Im glad to see you are working hard to make this a full-featured online game. I hope it will get close soon to the Saturnian MMO, Glory of Generals. Honorable Mentions: Here are a selection of online games that have been announced as a part of BattleSpace, but aren't yet live. They are planned to be coming in about 3 to 6 months. New updates will be announced with each of the new game additions. BattleSpaces is home to a relatively small group of developers, but we have been working on each game at full blast from the get-go. The online game (www.battlespace.net) is our flagship, and will undergo the most development down the road. Our goal is to create a game with content in excess of any other MMO on the market today.
